Foresee Production Race At Last Getting Under Way

Industry Will Be Speeded By Miners' Return

Soft Coal Miners Return To Pits In Strength During Day

PRODUCTION RACE WILL BE LAUNCHED

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(INS)—Industrialists looked with new hope today for a quick recovery from virtual paralysis that beset the nation as nearly 400,000 bituminous coal miners returned to the pits in strength for the first time in nearly two months.

United Mine Workers officials and naval authorities in charge of the coal mine administration said that the government contract has been completed and most of the miners will be back on the job.

The first day of full operations was expected to yield an estimated two million tons of coal.

As the miners trekked back to dig coal for fuel-starved industry, steel mills and heavy steel using industries were preparing to enter one of the greatest production races in the history of industry.

Thousands To Return

Letters from thousands of unemployed employees calling them back or alerting them for an early return. Railroads already had thousands of engineers and trainmen back on the job switching empty coal cars at mine sidings. Tug boat lines were prepared to move fuel to mills along the vast network of inland waterways. Great Lakes shipping was returning to normal.

With the centralized school system that developed here years ago, large number of the one room type of schools were left abandoned. A majority of these have now been converted into homes, and are serving quite satisfactorily, it is noted.

Flood Stage Is Reached On Some And Lowlands Again Flooded

NEAR FLOOD STAGE AT PITTSBURGH NOW

(International News Service)

Turbulent Pennsylvania waters churned in their silt-choked beds today in the wake of near-record week-end rains that swelled them over their banks in an overflow which wrought great property damage and caused two deaths.

The Susquehanna river valley—still devastated by last week's greatest inundation in the past decade—found itself facing more floodwaters today as the stream rose rapidly, while at Towanda, the rising waters were not expected to crest until late today.

Over the week end, the Schuylkill river surged over southeastern Pennsylvania lowlands, and virtually all their tributaries raged high over their banks as the weather bureau reported the second highest rainfall in its 75-year history.

Carpenters Strike In Cleveland Area

CLEVELAND, June 3.—(INS)—A strike today of 4,500 AFL-Carpenters brought a halt to nearly all building construction in three northern Ohio counties, including Cleveland.

Millions of dollars worth of building projects, including essential housing for veterans, were stopped by the walkout called by the carpenters district council in Cuyahoga, Geauga and Lake counties.

House May Accept Senate Version Of Truman Labor Bill

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—House proponents of anti-strike legislation indicated their willingness today to accept the watered-down Senate version of President Truman's emergency labor bill.

Despite deletion of the worker-draft provision from the presidential measure, the position of House supporters was based on the possibility that the alternative to acceptance is no legislation at all.

The alternative in the House to acceptance of the Senate bill is to send the measure to a joint Senate-House conference, where, it is feared, delays may kill the measure entirely.

Case Bill Up To President

A factor in House maneuvering is the Case bill, permanent labor legislation, which now lies in President Truman's desk awaiting disposition.

Should the chief executive elect to veto this measure, it was considered that House acceptance of the Truman bill would be necessary.

Price Formula Causes Delay On Senate OPA Bill

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—Only one major obstacle—agreement on a price formula—reportedly stood in the way today of completion of the OPA bill by the Senate banking and currency committee.

The committee took a recess until tomorrow to permit Sen. Taft (R., Ohio), to confer with OPA officials on a suitable price formula that would give manufacturers, processors and distributors a reasonable profit.

Other members worked on remaining amendments with the understanding that an attempt would be made to complete the House-approved bill tomorrow.

Sen. Wagner (D., N. Y., committee chairman) said the bill will be called up on the Senate as soon as it disposes of the draft extension measure, now pending on the floor. He expressed the belief that that would probably be sometime this week. The committee is entering its eighth week of deliberation on the OPA bill.

The price control act expires June 30 unless extended. Taft's bill voted today for a nine-month extension, while the Senate committee has agreed to a full year's continuation.

U. N. To Debate Spain Report

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—The United Nations sub-committee report condemning Franco Spain as a potential threat to world peace headed today for security council debate with unanimous approval of the sub-committee members.

Dr. Pedro L. Velloso, Brazilian delegate who had dissented from the recommendations for a collective break with the Spanish regime if Franco is still in power in September, changed his position to one of concurrence.

Dr. Velloso epitomized the attitude of UN observers toward the five-power sub-committee report as he stated, "I am convinced that the council will accept the conclusions with slight modifications."

The security council will meet Thursday to discuss the report which also branded Franco's regime as fascist and a partner of Mussolini and Hitler.

Truman To Confer With Stettinius

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—President Truman will confer with Edward R. Stettinius, Jr., today on his resignation as American representative to the United Nations organization.

Stettinius sent his resignation in to the president last week, but it has not been accepted.

At his news conference last week, the president expressed the hope that Stettinius would reconsider and would remain at his post.

Stettinius was to be accompanied to the White House by Secretary of State Byrnes.

Launch Senate Drive To Extend Draft Program

Senate Urged To Pass Draft Extension Law To Include 18-19 Year Olds

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—Sen. Chan Gurney (R., S. D.) opened the Senate drive for a full-fledged draft extension today with a warning that Congress will "gamble with disaster" if it cuts off all inductions or exempts teen-age youths.

Gurney advocated a bill which extends the draft until May 15, 1947 with an exemption for fathers but not 18-19-year-olds. He told the Senate that the world is potentially closer to war than it was in 1939.

He said:

"Like Life Preserver
At this stage of our history the selective service act is like a life preserver on a ship sailing uncharted seas. We may not need it. But if we do, we shall need it desperately. We can't afford to take the chance of throwing it overboard because some thinking the sea looks smooth today."

"All statistics aside, this is what the issue came down to in its final analysis."

"We play safe if we extend the act as proposed. We gamble with disaster if we don't."

"To restrict the age limits as was done in the House is to punch holes in the life preserver. To rip its cover, and then hope it will keep us afloat."

Too-Rapid Demobilization
Gurney, author of the bill reported by the Senate military committee now before the Senate, said that "all of us" shared the blame for a too-rapid demobilization which "literally wrecked the army that won the war."

He told his colleagues they could not escape responsibility for what might happen if they refused to "underwrite the national security and back up our foreign policy by passage of this bill."

The Gurney bill carries with it four proposed pay increases scaling ranging from 20 to 30 percent for enlisted men and zero to 20 percent for officers.

Mine Operators Study Coal Price Relief Proposals

Estimate 35 To 50 Cents Per Ton Price Increase To Be Needed By New Agreement

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(INS)—Coal mine operators today began an intensive study of the United Mine Workers-government contract to determine the measure of price relief needed to meet terms of the agreement.

They began checking the agreement as 98 per cent of the nation's 400,000 bituminous miners were back on the job and negotiations for settlement of the strike of 75,000 anthracite miners were viewed with greater optimism.

Byron Canon, executive secretary of the Western Pennsylvania Coal Producers association, said it would take at least a month of study and actual operation of the mines to determine the necessary price relief.

He said preliminary studies showed that an increase of between 35 to 50 cents a ton was needed.

The association secretary said that when the operators determine what they considered a proper increase they will begin sessions with OPA before accepting the government contracts.

Eighty-Two Are Graduated At Westminster Today

NEW WILLIMINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—Eighty-two seniors of Westminster College received diplomas at the 22nd graduation exercises held this afternoon on the Wallace Memorial chapel in the campus. The fact that the chilly weather forced the exercises indoors cut the size of the crowd which otherwise would have been one of the largest in many years. This first post-war commencement is also the first commencement to take place in the chapel for a number of years.

The diplomas are awarded on the south terrace of Old Main Memorial.

Principal speaker was Dr. John Richard Sizoo, pastor of St. Nicholas Collegiate, New York City. Honorary degrees were received by Rev. Roy Lash, '17, pastor of the Second-Fifth U. Ten-Day Delay In Tokyo Trials

TOKYO, June 3.—(INS)—The opening trial session of the international tribunal of the Far East adjourned today at noon after a defense motion was granted for a ten-day delay in the trial of Hiroto Tojo and twenty-seven other prominent Japanese faced with major war crimes charges.

The eleven-nation tribunal granted the delay with the stipulation that International Prosecutor Joseph B. Keenan of the United States will be allowed to deliver his opening charge tomorrow morning.

The tribunal will then recess until June 13 to allow defense attorneys to prepare their cases.

The postponement was granted on the plea that newly-arrived American defense attorneys for the Japanese defendants have not had time to study charges and evidence that they have spent two weeks in Japan procuring living quarters and getting vaccinated and had been introduced to their secretaries only this morning.

"It takes four times longer to do anything in Japan than it does in America."

Bidault May Be Named President Of French Nation

PARIS, June 3.—(INS)—The Rightist newspaper L'Epoque predicted boldly today that French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault may become president to succeed Felix Gouin.

L'Epoque's first issue after yesterday's elections carried a headline saying "Bidault Comes Into Power." The accompanying story said:

"Bidault is ready to assume leadership of a government of national unity and is determined to apply the program of the national resistance council."

Informed quarters said the newspaper's optimism stemmed from sensational gains made by Bidault's popular Republican (MRP) party in the election.

Maritime Unions Seek World Wide Strike Support

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—CIO Maritime unions sought worldwide support today for a scheduled strike on June 15 as negotiations aimed at averting the walkout entered the third consecutive day in a deadlock.

The unions called upon the world federation of trade union to refuse "to work" ships manned by the U. S. Government in event of a strike.

As bargaining talks between the unions and the shipowners were to be renewed, West Coast ship owners sought government permission to temporarily drop out of the negotiations.

Frank P. Foible, president of the Waterfront Employers association of the West Coast, said his organization had requested Labor department permission to return home to carry on individual bargaining discussions with AFL unions.

French Election Discloses Turn Toward Right

Latest Election Is Important Postwar Defeat For Leftist Hopes

COMMUNISTS LOSE LEADING POSITION (BULLETIN)

PARIS, June 3.—(INS)—French voters turned toward the right today and assured the nation's new constituent assembly a moderate voting majority.

Election results were viewed in diplomatic circles as perhaps the most important postwar defeat to date for leftist political hopes.

Candidates of the popular Republican movement (MRP) triumphed over Communist rivals in metropolitan France by winning 138 of 586 assembly seats.

Reds Lose Leading Place
The Reds placed 146 delegates, but lost their position as the nation's leading party. MRP was voted 14 seats more than it enjoyed before.

Former Premier Leon Blum received a setback when his Socialist party lost 15 seats. Blum had campaigned actively for a Socialist victory on the strength of his successful trip to Washington for one-billion, 370-million-dollar loan.

Blum's party however won 115 seats. The Rightist Republican Liberty party (RLR) won 62 seats and the Radical Socialist party (Moderates) seated 32 deputies.

Republicans Poll Big Vote
Polling figures revealed that the popular Republicans tallied 630,000 more votes than they received last October for a total of 5-million, 491 thousand.

Although the Communist lost several seats in the assembly, nevertheless they polled 320 thousand more votes than in the previous election trailed in second place with a total of 5-million, 136 thousand votes.

The Socialists, chief losers in the balloting, fell 330 thousand below their total vote in the October election.

Rainfall During May Breaks Records

Greatest Amount Of Precipitation In Local Station History Of

With a total downfall of 9.46 inches of rain recorded during the month of May, all records for any one month in the history of the local U. S. weather observation station were broken. Baxter F. Johnson, observer here, stated today.

Similar record-breaking amounts were recorded by nearby stations, a 35-year record being established in the Youngstown area.

The downpour, about half of which occurred during the last week of the month, resulted in low places in the area being flooded by swollen streams, considerable damage resulting here when cellars were flooded and homes in lowland areas were invaded by the waters.

There was one death attributed to the high water in the local area.

President-Elect Of Colombia To Talk To Truman

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., June 3.—(INS)—Dr. Mariano Ospina Perez, president-elect of Colombia, relaxed today at a Miami Beach hotel before traveling north on his first official U. S. visit to confer with President Truman and other government officials.

Dr. Ospina arrived in Miami late yesterday from Bogota, with an official party of 17 accompanying him. They traveled in two chartered planes. The 55-year-old millionaire South American businessman, who won the presidency last month in a three-way race, came to the United States to study latest developments in agriculture and education.

"Those are the biggest problems facing my country today," he said.

Dr. Ospina will be the first conservative party President Colombia has had in 16 years when he takes office in August.

Government To Loan Wheat To U. S. Flour Mills

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—The Agriculture Department announced today that the government will loan wheat from its stocks to U. S. flour mills to alleviate critical bread shortages in the nation. The department said the wheat would be released "to enable mills to supply flour to areas where consumer bread supplies are found to be definitely short of the reduced emergency levels."

Many flour mills have reported that they were forced to curtail operations as a result of a shortage of grain resulting from the government's buying up of wheat and corn for shipment to famine areas.

At the same time, the department announced that the government also would supply wheat to mills "which are in position to expedite grinding for export shipments."

Moslems Call On British To Begin Evacuation Work

LONDON, June 3.—(INS)—Reuters reported from Cairo today that leaders of Egypt's Moslem Brotherhood have called upon the British to begin withdrawing their troops within 15 days.

The organization, which claims more than a million members, suggested that resumption of Anglo-Egyptian treaty negotiations be made conditional upon British troop evacuation from Egypt.

HOUSE MAY ACCEPT SENATE VERSION OF TRUMAN LABOR BILL

man bill would become a virtual certainty. The president was urged over the week-end by the CIO to reject the Case bill.

Both pros and cons in the House will have several days in which to analyze the Senate bill and map strategy for the next round in the labor battle which is shaping up for the latter part of this week.

Delay controversies

Under a "gentlemen's agreement," no controversial matters are to be brought up on the House floor until Thursday, because of the absence of many members who have returned to their home states to participate in primary elections. Likewise, there is agreement that any matter upon which a roll call vote is requested shall automatically be delayed until that day.

Under this agreement, therefore, any single member of the House can block action on the president's bill until Thursday by the simple device of demanding a roll call vote.

Seek To Block Measure

Meanwhile, it was learned that pro-labor forces in the House would seek to block speedy action on the Senate bill. This could be accomplished by a single objection to consideration of the measure on the House floor, and would require action of the rules committee to clear its way for consideration there.

Such a move, it is estimated, would delay final debate and voting on the bill until the first part of next week at the earliest.

Nonetheless, the House powers that backed the drive for the Case bill are believed prepared to jam through acquiescence to the Senate version of the president's bill by accepting it and thus sending it to the White House for presidential action.

The latter covers officers, non-coms and enlisted men, enlisted men of the lowest two ranks getting boosts of 30 per cent.

Under the House draft bill, the selective service act expires next February 15, but indications are suspended until October 15 when the President may, if he chooses, authorize further draft operations.

In Memoriam

Helen Boya Allen
Passed away June 3, 1942
Midnight stars are gleaming
Upon a lonely grave.
Where sleeping, but not dreaming,
Lies the one we could not save.
In dreams we see her dear, sweet face
And kiss her cold, cold brow
And whisper as we loved her now
We love her memory now.
We think of her in silence
No eyes can see us weep;
But still within our aching hearts
Your memory we shall keep.

Boy Is Injured By Motor Truck

Cpl. Frank Pagley, Camp Hood, Texas, home address, Canyon street, this city, yesterday took to the Jameson Memorial hospital a young boy, son of M. C. Herman, 428 East Meyer avenue, whose foot was run over by a truck at North Jefferson street and Public Square.

According to the report made to police the driver of the truck did not know he had run over the boy's foot. Pagley's car was following the truck, it was stated.

RIVERS IN STATE SWELLED AGAIN

bureau officials did not look for more uprisings as there were no signs of impending rain.

Robert Montgomery, 11-year-old Philadelphia Cub Scout, was drowned after being marooned on a small island by the waters of Perkasie creek near Collegeville, and police recovered a body of an unidentified man in the Schuylkill.

In Western Pennsylvania, the heavy week-end rains caused a sudden overflow of Uniontown streams and the muddy waters surged through the lowland sections of the Fayette county city. Damage was estimated in the thousands of dollars.

Recedes At Pittsburgh

Weatherman John J. Murphy reported that the Pittsburgh rivers began to recede at 8:30 a. m. this morning after reaching 22.97 feet, approximately one foot short of flood stage.

Earlier, Murphy predicted the rivers would crest at 25.5 feet, a half foot over flood stage, inundating the low-lying river front sectors.

At Confluence, the Youghiogheny river crested at nine feet, four feet under flood stage and at Greensboro, near the Pennsylvania-West Virginia border, the Monongahela reached 27.6 feet. The flood stage there is 30 feet.

Hundreds of residents in Uniontown were marooned by the "flash" floods and many were rescued from roof-tops and second story windows. Traffic along Route 51 was blocked for 12 hours and gas and electric power was shut off during the height of the flood.

Clearing skies and a fair and warmer weather forecast for today, however, was expected to help check the rising waters.

Home Ownership Situation In Nation

One of the most often-used and reliable indices to the economic stability of a community is the number of houses owned by their occupants. Home owners have a definite stake in civic affairs and more often than not an increased feeling of responsibility.

Thus, from a community standpoint, there is considerable encouragement to be found in figures recently released by the census bureau, showing that since 1940 the number of resident home owners has increased nearly 33 per cent. Latest statistics show that dwelling units occupied by owners number 20 million or 53 per cent of all occupied dwelling units, as compared with 15 million or 44 per cent of all occupied units in April, 1940. Tenant-occupied units declined 11 per cent from slightly fewer than 20 million in 1940.

Doubtless, a great many of the new home owners became so through necessity rather than choice. Any one remotely familiar with the pathetic housing situation knows that only through purchase does the average American stand much more than a fraction of a chance of finding a place to live. Observers of the housing picture say that this condition has progressed so far now that the crying need is for property built for rent than for sale.

Forced ownership does account for a large share of present-day real estate business, but obviously not all. Census figures would seem to show that the big wages and the "easy money" of wartime have not been altogether wasted, as some cynics said that they would be. Even without the desperate shortage now existing, it seems reasonable to assume that there would be a great demand for new building. And it seems reasonable to believe that a sizable part of the demand will continue when the specter of high prices and shortages gives way to more normal times.

New homes and refrigerators and stoves and other items of much-needed consumer goods will be convincing proof that America is still keeping its head.

One Of These Perils

People have been warned against excessive worry for years because it has been found that most of them worry about the wrong thing—that is, about something which never happens. At present there are many who express concern about the atomic bomb and the possible uses to which it will be put. There are psychologists who say that this fear is widespread.

Yet, according to W. A. Higginbotham, chairman of the Federation of Atomic Scientists, there are "at least two major secret weapons in existence which scientists believe are potentially as dangerous to mankind as the atomic bomb itself." He is convinced Congress should ask the War department to release more information on biological or germ warfare and on fission-product warfare, sometimes termed atomic poison gas, a request which many Americans may consider out of order.

Mr. Higginbotham points out that there is a passive defense against the atomic bomb in that cities and industries might be dispersed at a cost of 300 billion dollars. But bacteriological warfare could be used to cut off food supplies, and radio-active materials could be used to trap people in bomb shelters and caves. Through germ warfare, he said, aerial attackers or saboteurs could silently set forces at work which would kill men, women and infants in their homes, and after a certain period the conqueror could enter the depopulated areas and find the buildings, factories and resources of the country ready for his use.

One can understand why some scientists want the United States to share its war-making secrets with other nations. But there is this to be said for government secrecy: As long as any nation prevents exchange of information, this government would be criminally remiss if it did not withhold information vital for its own defense.

Silk Versus Nylon

Sen. Homer E. Capehart charged recently that the government had gone into the black market business when complaint was made that silk from Japan was being sold by governmental agencies to hosiery mills at a price that compelled high retail prices.

The first consignment of this silk has been transformed into women's hose, which went on sale in New York the other day. One store had some numbers in 45 gauge, 3 thread for $2.77. Another had a sheer selection at $3.15 and a chain of shoe stores was featuring a 2-thread hose at $3.50. Some of the silk hose were marked as high as $5 a pair.

There was no excitement in New York when the first postwar all-silk hosiery became available. Shops reported sales, but there were no lines and many customers complained about the price. Doubtless silk hose will be cheaper when and if supplies of raw silk from Japan and China become more bountiful.

But there is a feeling that, in a manner of speaking, silk hosiery is on its last legs. Nylon's advantages have been so well publicized that the average woman prefers nylon to silk. In addition to losing the war, Japan may lose the demand for silk that formerly made this commodity one of its most profitable ventures.

Hero Of The Atomic Age

The body of Dr. Louis Slotin was flown back to his birthplace, Winnipeg, Canada, a few days ago, from Los Alamos, New Mexico. Fellow of Dr. Slotin at the Los Alamos atomic bomb laboratory have feelingly remarked that he died a hero's death.

The cause was "exposure to radiation" in a laboratory accident, details of which have not been disclosed. But seven other physicists and technicians were also injured.

Dr. N. E. Bradbury, project director, says that at the moment of the accident Dr. Slotin leaped forward and "dispersed the material to prevent greater injury to fellow scientists."

He gave his own life, which had run only 35 years, to save others. His death is a vivid reminder of the selflessness of men of science and many others who have worked and continue to work, at no small peril, in atomic experiments and of the earnest insistence of most of them that the way must be cleared to speed the achievement of the splendid peaceful possibilities such experiments may bring to realities.

Some American diplomats are saying that the only thing to do now to save the situation is to arrange another meeting between President Truman and Josef Stalin. We don't think this is a good idea. If Mr. Truman is in the same fix we are, he has only one good shirt left.

Tojo and his gang have been accused of 55 separate war crimes. That is known as throwing the book at them.

WASHINGTON CALLING

by MARQUIS CHILDS

Foolish Rumors On Stettinius' Resignation

WASHINGTON, June 3.—The foolish rumors that circulated about the reasons for the resignation of Edward R. Stettinius Jr., had him at odds with Secretary of State Byrnes. So far as can be discovered there was no foundation whatsoever for these rumors.

Stettinius' letter of resignation was a dignified statement of his desire to step out. The President should accept it in the spirit in which it was tendered. Thus will be ended one of the most curious chapters in the Roosevelt administration. Stettinius was one of the little group of proteges developed under the wing of the late Harry L. Hopkins. They were almost all wealthy amateurs in government. One was Nelson Rockefeller, who became head of a government agency to promote good-will with Latin-America. Another was Averil Harriman, in charge of lend-lease in London, later ambassador to Moscow and now ambassador to London.

Interesting Technique Hopkins proteges were eager for advancement and prestige and ready to work hard under his tutelage. He used an interesting technique with them. Sometimes he scolded, sometimes he kidded. They were devotedly loyal to their mentor and, thanks to him, they played no small part in the history of the time.

Stettinius was first lend-lease administrator, then undersecretary of state. It was Hopkins who had put him on the escalator and Hopkins watched his progress upward with loving care.

In the No. 2 position in the government, Stettinius had many limitations. They were limitations of background and training. He was enormously jovial and friendly but that did not always make up for his deficiencies. The "Tojo" was a good job. He was taking directions, of course, from the White House and in particular from his close friend and patron.

President Roosevelt's death ended an intensely personal government because so much stemmed from the mind and the personality of one man and the others who moved in his orbit. For Stettinius, President Roosevelt's death came at a peculiarly difficult and embarrassing time. The formative meeting of the United Nations Conference was less than two weeks off. It was rumored Stettinius would resign. There were demands for his resignation.

Difficult Position This made his position extremely difficult. Yet when President Truman asked him to carry on for a little longer, after he had submitted his resignation, Stettinius accepted. The serious complication was the fact that with the death of the President and the accession to power of the vice president, the secretary of state is next in line for the White House.

At the end of the San Francisco conference, Stettinius was named the American delegate to the United Nations. Truman did everything he could to make it sound like a promotion. But still it was interpreted as finding a place for someone who had to be taken care of. No Match That in itself was a bad start for the handsome, silver-haired amateur who had stepped from the higher echelons of business into the higher echelons of government. Those who observed him closely at London felt that he was no match for such skilled, hard driving professionals as the Soviet delegate, Andrei Vyshinsky.

If the President does accede to Stettinius' earnest desire to resign, he will be faced with the problem of finding a qualified successor. Such men do not grow on trees. In the meantime an able professional diplomat, Herschel Johnson, is Stettinius' deputy as provided by law. There will be time to look for a man—for the man—for this all-important post.

Just Folks

SONG BIRD
Low in my mood was I.
Weary a bit, perhaps;
Dull both of mind and eye.
Sick of care's harness straps;
Tired of the fretful "must"
Urging the flagging will.
Thinking the good unjust—
Then on the air, a trill!

High on the tallest tree
A bird in a scarlet coat
Sang a brave melody.
Lovely each golden note!
Never a hint of wrong.
Never a phrase of strife.
Just a rich burst of song.
Chanting the joy of life!

Why do you shame me so,
Bird of the glad refrain?
Is it you never know
Loneliness, hurt or pain?
I who have faith and yet
Under the slightest sting,
Grimble at care and fret,
Lacking the heart to sing!

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN

At last we are getting some balance in our labor troubles. . . . The soft coal miners going in met the hard coal miners coming out.

Now Mr. Truman is trying to prevent two more walkouts. . . . Maritime workers and Ed Stettinius.

Stettinius has a perfectly normal reason for wanting to quit the Security Council. . . . Between sinus and Iran he has a fierce headache.

When they gave Ed the job they told him he had full power to act. His first act was to sit down and watch Jimmie Byrnes lug Iran in the front door.

Several times since Ed has wired Washington "you dragged it in. . . . You drag it out" but Jimmie has so many other countries to get involved with he seems to have lost interest in Iran.

An Ohio judge says we should have a school for diplomats and I have my kindergarten list ready.

Anyhow. . . Here's good news: The sound of the atom bomb is to be broadcast. If we don't hear it the first time undoubtedly we will hear it at sometime in the future. . . . Date and place probably not to be announced.

I'm watching things for you 'til disintegration day.

LOOKING AT LIFE

By ERICH BRANDEIS

I wish I had seen this advertisement before my wife took her five-year-old muskrat coat to the furrier to have a new piece of fur put in the sleeve and to be reglazed for next winter.

This advertisement, which appeared in my paper this morning and was printed in very elegant type, told me that I can now raise a royal chinchilla coat right in my own backyard!

According to the ad, "there are only about twenty-five chinchilla coats in the whole U. S. worth up to $50,000 each."

Naturally, I read the ad from the first to the last word, because it is as easy as all that, I want all my readers to have chinchilla coats, and I have a backyard.

These people even offer to "set up the pens for you and to advise you how to feed and care for your animals. Chinchillas are healthy, clean, odorless and gentle. Experience isn't necessary, as long as you follow instructions."

Or if it is too much trouble for you to raise the chinchillas yourself, they'll board and feed them for you, and "a special number identifying them will be tattooed in their ears."

You may even come and visit the little fur coats, and if you can't, you will be kept informed "of their progress."

But that isn't all. According to the ad, chinchillas are very prolific breeders, and if your particular ones don't breed the first year they guarantee to give you a new pair—"plus their litter."

While I was reading the ad, I had visions of my wife in a beautiful royal chinchilla coat by next winter.

From Me To You

By MESEALL

There are some people in this little town who think the future is bright. . . . and these people want to do something in making it brighter. That is why, to our way of thinking, that over 400 business men, from the chap who employs himself to the chap who employs several hundred have taken new memberships in the Greater New Castle Association. It's a good sign when people say. . . . we are going to do all within our power to make this place the best place there is.

A few, however have not caught the correct spirit. Some folks seem to think that one individual or a small group of individuals are bound and determined to keep all outside business out of the community. It's not true. . . . and when such a problem comes to light in your eyes the proper place to discuss it is with someone who is in the position to delve into the subject. Namely the Executive V. P. of the GNCA.

Some folks are being accused falsely. . . . and in order to keep your records clear and your thinking sharp it's best to gather the entire story before passing on stories that might tend to do harm not only to your neighbor but many other citizens of the place in which you live. For example, suppose you want to rent a place of business. . . . you find a place but you can't seem to make a deal with the renting agent. Don't get down on his neck. . . . nine times out of ten he is but carrying out the wishes of the party that owns the place. If you find that the entire community is in such a state. . . . and that the business you intend to establish will aid the community. . . . THEN bring it before the open meeting of your GNCA.

It's true that we get so excited on the subject of New Castle that we forget time and go rambling on for hours. . . . And from observation around the place we find that others do the same thing. The chaos who have recently returned from service in our nation's forces seem to have a new slant on what New Castle is and what its future will be. They seem genuinely interested. . . . new homes, improvements on streets, store fronts and keeping the working folks happy. Gosh it's great to be in New Castle.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

HOW GRANDPARENTS ENFORCE DISCIPLINE

It is a great privilege that many city children have to spend several weeks or months with relatives on the farm. But often these visiting children prove great burdens to the relatives, especially to the grandparents.

If you, the parents are with the child at the relatives, I trust you see it to it that this child does not cause them any unnecessary trouble, that you discipline him and, if he is old enough, require him to do some jobs about that home regularly and well.

If you don't accompany the child, you should urge the self-sacrificing relatives to discipline this youngster as they see fit or suppose you would, and make sure he helps them as he should. (My bulletin, "How Teach Child to Help at Home," may have had in a stamped envelope.) You want the child to learn kindness and justice to those who keep him in their home and appreciation for their hospitality.

Good Discipline Still more, you want your child to grow in good discipline and experience at some hard work. Incidentally, if you are with the child, you can help him toward these goals by your own good example.

Ever so many children whose fathers are in the service, and whose mothers work are being kept the year round by grandparents. Often these grandparents are sentimental about this child since "the poor little kid's father is away," and will pamper him, neither restraining him wisely nor requiring him to do regular home chores.

Some other grandparents who believe this child should be disciplined and made to help about the home, have not worked out effective ways to these ends.

Instead, they will nag and jaw eternally, charge the child with ingratitude and laziness with the result that he grows less obedient and less co-operative. Whereas most parents put too much trust in the sitting house, most grandparents do so still more. Being a bit nearer their second childhood, their parents are, they incline to act more childishly toward children.

On the other hand, some other grandparents having one or more grandchildren with them, without either parents, do a remarkable job of bringing up these youngsters in good discipline and responsibility.

Perhaps it is the baby or tot and the teen-age child with whom grandparents are least often successful, though a few grandparents will discipline the young child far better than his parents will. Yet, most grandparents don't understand the teen-age youth and may set restrictions over him which are not reasonable or enforceable, resulting in antagonism of this youth and growing conflicts between him and these grandparents.

Nevertheless, there are some grandparents who have been wonderful as substitute parents for their adolescent grandchildren.

Parents, grandparents, or others responsible for bringing up a teen-age youth find the biggest means of success from trying to put themselves in their imagination in the youth's place. From disciplining themselves never to jaw from being able to talk to these young folks over their problems without being angry or excited, and from appreciating them and their friends as real persons.

Good Taste

By Francine Markel

WORKING WIVES

Recently an important executive told me why he will not employ married women. "Among women, the emotional pull of married life generally upsets office efficiency," he claimed. "Married women are likely to arrive at their desks already weary by the day's domestic preliminaries. Instead of making their lunch hour a recess for relaxation, they generally spend it shopping. And there are other habits that vitiate their jobs."

Fortunately not all employers have this prejudice. Married girls who shut the home door when they turn their faces officeward and who keep it shut until all office duties have been completed will not be nosed out by unmarried women without home responsibilities.

The wife engaged all day in office work should not be required to go home to housework, if her husband, too, is working. Physically, the average office-working wife is less able to go home to housework than the average office-working husband.

If out of their joint salaries, they cannot afford at least a part-time maid, they should cooperate on sharing the housework. There is no fairness in the attitude of the husband who thinks that housekeeping is a woman's work whether or not she is a bread winner. A woman whose husband has that attitude should give up her job, let him worry about the budget, and put her full time to housekeeping, which is really a full-time job, if done properly.

Question: Is it proper to have a maid-of-honor and two bridesmaids at a wedding in which the bride will wear a suit or a street-length dress?

Answer: No. One attendant only is permissible. Bridesmaids belong only in a wedding in which the bride wears traditional bridal attire.

Present your problems to Miss Markel who will promptly mail personal replies to questions from readers inclosing stamped, self-addressed envelopes.

Byrnes Will Remain At Post Until Tension Eases
Churchill Still Among Tops Of World Phrasemakers
Misunderstanding Over French Loan Is Cleared Up

Special to Central Press

WASHINGTON, June 3.—Do not look for an early resignation of James F. Byrnes as secretary of state. The fundamental consideration in such a matter just now is the crucial condition of international affairs.

Any replacement of Byrnes now would have grave repercussions in foreign relations, since it would confuse other powers on the question of whether or not Byrnes had been fully backed in his position on international matters by President Truman. The fact is that he has taken no step without his chief's prior approval. However, if Byrnes fails to accomplish a peace in Europe before the end of summer, it's quite possible that he may be named to the supreme court.

Byrnes has virtually a veteran's preference claim to the bench since he left it only at President Roosevelt's urging to take on a top war job. Close friends believe he would be glad to go back to the court if he could point to a successful task performed. Not particularly wealthy, he is understood to welcome the security as well as the distinction of a job on the high tribunal.

Churchill Not Slipping

Since he was defeated in the British elections and became the leader of his majesty's loyal opposition, Winston Churchill has still remained the phrase-maker which gained him acclaim when, as prime minister, he spat forth defiance at the axis.

His most popular phrase since that has been his reference to the "iron curtain" which cuts off eastern Europe from the western world.

However, some United States diplomats deny Churchill the credit for coining this pungent phrase. They argue that it was coined a year ago, almost not by an outside critic but by an official of eastern Europe—Sava N. Kossanovic, then Yugoslav minister of education, but lately designated Yugoslav ambassador to the United States.

Kossanovic is said to have used the phrase while arguing for the admission of foreign correspondents freely to report developments in his country.

Schwellenbach In Trouble

Secretary of Labor Schwellenbach is having difficulty finding candidates for several top jobs in the department. Under legislation recently signed by President Truman, an under-secretary's post and three assistant secretaries were created.

John W. Gibson, former Michigan CIO director, occupies one of the assistant secretarieships, but the AFL is not too anxious to name a representative to serve under Schwellenbach.

The Federation is peeved at the secretary on several counts. Nelson Cruikshank, AFL Social Security expert, once was in line for appointment as assistant secretary.

SAFEGUARDING WELFARE FUNDS

Debate in the Senate is shaping the original Byrd anti-royalty amendment aimed at John L. Lewis into a constructive piece of legislation. Majority sentiment in the Senate would outlaw exclusive union control of health and welfare funds to which employers contribute, but would allow already established funds to continue until the end of existing contracts. Such legislation would still be a blow at Lewis, who demands domination of welfare funds, but it would permit employer and employee by collective bargaining to care for the well-being of the workers by making such funds a charge on the industry concerned.

Another safeguard favored by the Senate also seems in the public interest. Welfare funds are to be restricted to such matters as medical and hospital care, life insurance benefits and other provisions which directly affect the welfare of workers. Employees are entitled to assurance that cash contributed by employers for the health of workers should not be spent for other purposes.

Resumption at the tactics of Lewis need not be carried so far as to oppose enlightened and humane measures for the care of miners or others who work at semi-hazardous occupations. Progressive American industries have come to recognize the social obligations of business. Government by the Social Security program has moved to meet the needs of millions of workers. Money spent in guarding the health and welfare of employees may be the means of safeguarding our greatest natural resource, the laboring force of the nation—Philadelphia Evening Bulletin.

A BAN ON STRIKES

Three members of the Lower House—two Democrats and one American Labor—loose a blast against Civilian Production Administrator John D. Small for declaring that the country needs a six months ban on strikes and some legislation to deal with the strike problem. Mr. Small also paid his next to John L. Lewis, saying it is time the labor leader realizes he is "not bigger than one hundred forty million people."

The three congressional critics, in denouncing the Small statement, demand that President Truman dismiss the civilian production administrator and "let him get a job with the National Manufacturers' Association." The statement they bring one more trouble to an administration already reeling by disension.

It does not appear to occur to Mr. Small's critics that his job is supposed to be restoration of civilian production. The greatest obstacle to restore production, as everybody knows, has been strikes. The coal strike thus far has been the climax in a long series of tax scoopers.

A rail strike has happened. Do these three members of Congress insist that a coal strike or a rail strike is good for anybody? Can't they understand that non-production, or seriously curtailed production, with shortages of goods in the face of unprecedented demands is the biggest incentive to inflation?

Do they fail to realize that organizing labor itself has lost millions in wages and brought a loss of more millions to thousands forced into involuntary idleness? Do they regard the "right to strike" as more sacred than the right to work?

Mr. Small may have been extreme in his suggestion in favor of compulsory arbitration, although the attitude of both labor and management is driving many persons to the conclusion that such a step will be inevitable if the present impasse continues. No sensible person, however, can take exception to his reminder that uninterrupted production is "essential to avert a disastrous competition for goods that leads inevitably to skyrocketing prices and world inflation" and that a "constant succession of strikes has made maximum sustained production impossible."

It remains to be seen whether Mr. Truman will support or disavow his civilian production administrator. It is entirely probable, regardless of the President's attitude that Mr. Small will be applauded by the great majority of cut labor for a display of courage and common sense at a time when the country is struggling under the heels of an intolerable politico-labor dictatorship.

What People Say

(By International News Service)

CHICAGO — Secretary of War Robert Patterson demands extension of the draft. "We cannot purchase security by refusing to face the realities of the world we live in, a world in which every region is within range of the long-range bomber."

WASHINGTON—Senator Robert Taft of Ohio indicates he would accept the Republican nomination for president. "I am not a candidate in 1948 for the presidency. However, I don't know of anyone who ran away from the nomination."

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Tom Clark blasts violation of anti-trust laws. "The payment of fines in a criminal suit is considered by many corporations as part of the fixed expense of doing business."

CHICAGO — Norman Thomas, five-time Socialist candidate, for president: "Nazi totalitarianism is shattered beyond power to menace the world, but there is reason to fear the Soviet dictatorship is set upon an equally ruthless drive for power with far greater latent strength behind it."

Guffey-Wagner Split Reported

Reports Circulate In Capital That Senator May Not Get Wagner Support

OTHER NEWS OF STATE AFFAIRS

HARRISBURG, June 3.—(INS)—Reports of a split between the factions of the Democratic party headed by U. S. Sen. Joseph F. Guffey and Auditor General G. Harold Wagner have been circulating on Capitol Hill. . . . It was reported that Wagner's group may not support Guffey's bid for a third term in the November 5 general election. . . . Some Democratic leaders have claimed that Guffey was the main obstacle to the proposed slating of Wagner as the Democratic gubernatorial candidate earlier this year. . . . Wagner withdrew in favor of Col. John S. Rice, of Gettysburg.

Many politicians have been speculating on the part John U. Shroyer, former highways secretary and unsuccessful candidate for the Republican gubernatorial nomination at the May 21 primary election, would play in the fall campaign. In some circles it was reported that Shroyer may support the Democratic ticket headed by Guffey and Rice. . . . A few politicians have said, however, that Shroyer, a Shamokin dressmaker, may cast aside the new guard of Pennsylvania, which supported him during the primary drive, and return to the regular GOP fold.

The department of military affairs has compiled a booklet pertaining to the organization and recruitment of Pennsylvania's post-war National Guard. . . . The pamphlet pointed out that one of the duties of the guard's public relations branch would be to "convince the business and industrial leaders of the several communities that the PNG, serving as a first line of defense for the state, may some day be the principal means of defending the commonwealth against a hostile airborne invasion, spearheading an undeclared war."

The Pennsylvania League of Third Class Cities has pointed out in its monthly publication there were 60,000 eating and drinking establishments in the commonwealth which must be inspected and licensed under the law enacted by the General Assembly last year. . . . Philadelphia has 8,000 eating and drinking places, Pittsburgh 7,000, and 7,500 were located in second class townships. . . . approximately 1,200 restaurants and cafes were located in other parts of the state.

The legislative reference bureau compiled a booklet containing a copy of the Declaration of Independence, the U. S. and Pennsylvania constitutions. . . . The booklet contains the four amendments to the constitution which were approved by the electorate at the November 7 election last year.

May Queen Is Crowned Indoors

May Day Exercises Take Place Saturday Afternoon At Westminster College

NEW WILMINGTON, June 3.—Beautiful Claire Quigley, junior from Wilkesburg, was crowned queen at Westminster college's traditional May Day exercises Saturday afternoon in the college chapel. About 1,000 grads and former students crowded the auditorium to view the ceremony which was forced indoors by inclement weather.

Miss Quigley was crowned by Alice Lou Loney of Aliquippa, last year's queen, on a high platform hurriedly constructed in the front of the chapel.

The queens, and their attendants, exquisitely gowned and carrying the traditional bouquets, moved to the platform to the strains of organ music played by Dorothy Sue Boliver of Butler.

Attendants to Queen

Attending Miss Quigley were Ann Crill, Mercer; Jane Moore, Pittsburgh; Gloria Albertson, West View; Evelyn Hill, Emsworth; Jean Pollock, Bellevue; and Polly Cochran, Aliquippa.

Miss Loney was attended by Margaret McLane, Pittsburgh; Harriet Saver, Mercer; Jane Sheppard, Squirrel Hill; Ruth Wright, Elyria, O.; Anna Mae Fitzsimmons, Olen-shaw; and Kathryn Wege, Washington, Pa.

Youngsters who aided in the ceremony were "Debby" Evans, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. James Evans, and "Marty" Maxwell, daughter of Alumni Secretary and Mrs. Robert Maxwell, train-bearers for Miss Quigley, and Robert Galbreath, II, son of Prof. and Mrs. Robert F. Galbreath, Jr., crownbearer. Judith Brennan, daughter of Prof. and Mrs. Harold B. Brennan and Mary Ann Black, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Harold L. Black, were train-bearers for Miss Loney.

Memorial For 43 Westminster Heroes Of War

NEW WILMINGTON, June 3.—"Man must reconcile himself with God if the present peace is to be a permanent one," Rev. Frank Black of Omaha, Neb., stated in his address at the Westminster College Memorial service honoring the college's war dead yesterday afternoon in the college chapel.

Rev. Black, a graduate of the college with the Class of 1924, served in the U. S. Navy as a chaplain in the Pacific theater. He related personal incidents in which men had found comfort in God. He stated that the alumni must never cease to honor the memories of those who gave their lives that freedom might live.

Climax of the service was the reading of the list of 43 men who died in World War II by Dr. Robert F. Galbreath, president. The audience stood and there was not a dry eye in the auditorium as the names were read in the presence of relatives and friends of the honored dead.

Chaplain James Blackwood of Pittsburgh, delivered the prayer, while Chaplain John Galbreath, son of President Galbreath, read the scripture. Charles W. Schmitt of Brackenridge, rendered a vocal solo. Taps was played by William Morris Davis.

Special music was furnished by the a cappella choir under the direction of Charles I. Sager. James W. Evans was at the organ.

Reopen Coal Mines In French Riviera

NICE—(INS)—Besides casinos, amusements and perfumes, the French Riviera is now going to produce coal. Coinciding with the visit to Nice of communist leader and deputy president of the republic, Maurice Thorez, local officials have reopened mines at Vescagne, about 25 miles from Nice.

Coal was found as Vescagne in 1832 but both production and quality were so poor that its working soon was abandoned. Now that France needs coal so badly two small coalpits have been reopened. Mining engineers believe that the mine could produce 500 tons of coal per day if it is properly exploited. So far, however, it has been difficult to produce more than 10 tons of lignite a day.

First samples were presented to Maurice Thorez during the reopening ceremony. His political opponents claim that the mine will be closed again after the forthcoming elections.

Maritime Strike Would Be Cause Of German Tragedy

BERLIN, June 3.—(INS)—An American military government official declared today that inadequate food imports or a maritime strike in the United States would cause "a tragedy" in Germany this summer.

Col. Hugh B. Hester, chief of the Food and Agriculture branch, said food stocks in Germany were "now at the bottom" and expressed a hope that the wheat-producing nations of United States, Canada and Australia will increase shipments to the Reich.

He said the threatened maritime strike by CIO unions in the U. S. would undoubtedly have a grave effect on the food situation despite assurances that vessels to carry emergency food would be available.

Once Jap-Held Atoll Gets Face Lifted As Jumping-Off Base For A-Bomb Test

KWAJALEIN, June 3.—(INS)—Three years ago it was Japanese held and an important chain in the enemy's defenses of Oceania.

A brief year ago it was a small atoll with vital link in the aerial communications lines of the United Nations.

Today, more than 10,000 army, air and naval forces are based at Kwajalein in readiness for operation crossroads. America's atomic bomb experiments.

Kwajalein, an atoll as bleak and blistered as only atolls can be, has matured tremendously in three short years.

And while it leaves much to be desired as a semi-permanent habitat, maturity also has brought to Kwajalein a semblance of civilization—served American style.

There are baseball diamonds and Red Cross coffee shacks, refrigerators and clean sheets, movie theaters and a radio station.

Many Facilities

There is a sheet range and a number of barber shops. There is fresh "stateside" food, sea or air expressed from California or Hawaii. There are swimming beaches and clubs with the inevitable palm leaves and varied, if somewhat wearying, views of a Pacific seemingly endlessly churned by trade winds.

There is an air terminal busy 24 hours a day as a way-station on the road to the Philippines, Australia and Japan and there is a harbor parked day and night with snorting, chugging cranes, tugs and more dignified bulk of merchant and war vessels.

But perhaps most of all, Kwajalein has the vast, concentrated facilities of roads, houses, harbors, wharves and every key utility from sanitation to a water production plant which defined it from the outset as more than just a whistle stop on the aerial skyways to the Orient.

Natural Selection

Because of those very facilities, Kwajalein was the natural selection to be both the air and supply nerve-center of operation crossroads. Victory in the Pacific reduced the Kwajalein garrison to hundreds instead of thousands. When victory came all the skilled technicians who had created this Kwajalein construction miracle went.

But as they went so came orders to ready the island for the influx of atomic personnel—personnel demanding every facility for living room from food to soap and from beds to transportation; personnel needing more room for more airplanes, more room for more maintenance—more of everything.

Today it is one of the largest and perhaps the busiest American base in the Pacific. It is No. 1 priority on air and sea schedules and will be, during the first week of July, the focus of international attention as it lends its coral bulk to the air-men and aircraft of operation crossroads.

Kwajalein, in three years, has come a long way.

By a wide margin California leads all other states in the number of licensed pilots.

National Guard Spurs Plans For Recruiting Drive

HARRISBURG, June 3.—(INS)—Pennsylvania National Guard officials spurred preparations today for a recruitment campaign scheduled to get underway June 17 to enroll 26,287 men.

The enlistment campaign was postponed two weeks by Brig. Gen. E. K. Stackpole, commandant, so that officers rank could be filled. Only 70 per cent of the officers have been appointed, he said.

Stackpole was unable to estimate how many additional commissioned men will be needed to direct recruiting for the six priority units to be formed. Approximately 3000 officers will be included in the 40,000 troops to comprise the National Guard, he said.

Peacetime military components currently assigned Pennsylvania and personnel quotas were state headquarters and headquarters detachment, 127; 28th infantry division, 12,737; 111th infantry combat team, 2586; 51st anti-aircraft artillery brigade, 6843; 53rd air wing, 2948, and two army ground forces bands, 46.

"Many local units of all priority components have not had time to appoint enough officers to handle recruiting," Stackpole said. "We want all units to initiate recruiting simultaneously."

Eleven ground units composed of 13,273 troops were slated to be organized later.

One Hurt When Car Skids, Upsets

When an auto operated by Eugene Steib, 1527 Keefe Drive, Youngstown, skidded, struck a telephone pole then overturned on route 351 between Enoch Valley and Petersburg at 4:45 p. m. Saturday, according to state police, Ralph Steib, 16, son of the driver, sustained lacerations of the forehead, cheek and ear and has a possible fracture of the skull. He is in the North Side hospital, Youngstown. There were eight persons in the car, three in the front seat and five in the rear seat, state police reported.

Y.W.C.A. Prepares East Brook Camp For Summer Season

East Brook camp on the Harbort-East Brook road and the Neshannock river is now being prepared by the Y. W. C. A. for girl campers from seven to 16 years of age.

Camp life at East Brook, with its newly painted colonial buildings and spacious porches, includes swimming in the pool, campfires, hikes, cook-outs and worship services on the "Cliff."

Registrations are being accepted in the order in which they are received at the Y. W. C. A. The period June 25-July 6 is reserved for girls from seven to 11 years of age, and the period July 9-20 is for girls from 12 to 16.

Mrs. James Rugh is camp chairman, with Miss Marion Ocham-paugh, Y. W. C. A. program director, as camp director. Miss Helen McQueen will be swimming teacher. Miss Jane Kerr is counselor for sports and outdoor recreation.

Joanne Sargent will assist with crafts and Jane Reed with dramatics. Mrs. Carrie Griner will be camp cook.

HAVANA ELECTION

HAVANA, June 3.—(INS)—Dr. Manuel Fernandez Supervielle, running on President Grau San Martin's Autentico party ticket, today was conceded the majority of Havana in Cuba's week-end elections.

Francisco Batista Zaldivar, brother of the former president of the island, won the mayoral race in the nearby city of Marianao.

Political observers said the election returns consolidated the position of President Grau and the Autentico party in the national government.

Housecleaning At City Library Is Big Task

"Soft job, cleaning the library," says the patron as she watched the janitors clean the shelves with vacuum dusters at the New Castle
Free Public Library on North Mercer street.

The librarian merely stamps the patrons books and keeps quiet. She decided it would be better not to argue with the patron who had just paid a fifty-cent fine, for the lady is in a mood to be belligerent.

"Sixty thousand books," the librarian thinks to herself, "and she says it's a soft job."

"And pushing that motorized feather duster over the floors," continues the patron. "I wish I could clean my floors that easily!"

"She doesn't know that every bit of that old wax has to be scraped off with steel wool before the floor can be washed and waxed again," the librarian thinks, condescendingly.

"And that thing isn't so easy to push around." The librarian remembers the day it got out of hand and ran into a nice little man who was reading The New York Times.
And it gets stuck in the dips in the floor, too, she adds.

"I'll bet those walls are easy to wash down, too. Of course," the lady admits grudgingly, "they are kinda high."

Some Walls to Clean
"Mr. Wadlinger, the janitor, says there are 35,000 or 40,000 feet of wall in this place," snaps the librarian.
"Oh, really?" The patron is rather interested. "But then he doesn't have to wash them very often, and what does he find to do in the meantime?"

"The librarian controls herself admirably."

"Perhaps," she suggests, "you would like to talk to Mr. Wadlinger. He might be able to describe their work to you a little better than I can."

The patron thinks about it.
"Can I go down to the basement and look at the boiler?"

"Certainly," says the librarian graciously, so they go down.
They go into the janitors' work room and they look at huge boxes of soap powder, whole cartons of dusters, gallons of wax, closets full of mops.

"Well, but, . . ." says the bewildered patron. "Just when do you get your spring housecleaning done in the library?"

"In time to start all over again," says Mr. Wadlinger.

The patron thinks about it.
"I guess," she admits, "I don't mind not having a vacuum duster for my bookshelves."

Colorado Coeds Hope To Guide World Students

BOULDER, Colo. (INS)—When exchange students from all parts of the world come to the United States to learn American post-war ideas and way of life, a group of coeds at the University of Colorado hope to play the role of guides.

The girls are resident of International House at Boulder—one of the few of its kind in the nation.
Nineteen girls of various nationalities live at the house according to Elizabeth Harris, its president.

"These foreign students, completely unfamiliar with the American way of life, will need to be eased gradually into campus life, and we think International House will be able to help them a lot."

When the girls of varying national-backgrounds first began living together, sociology was a popular subject, but after five years, the coeds, less conscious of their differences,
have branched into many fields.

A male counterpart of the house
may be re-opened for the July term.

Westminster Man To Attend Music Festival In July

NEW WILMINGTON, June 3.—
Charles I. Sager, assistant professor of voice at Westminster college, is planning to attend the Berkshire
Music Center Festival at Berkshire
Music, for six weeks, July 1 to August 10.

While at Berkshire, Sager will study conducting under Serge Kousse-vitzky, conductor of the Boston
Symphony orchestra, and Goldovsky of the New England Conservatory of Music, and choral conducting under Hugh Ross of New York City.

TAKE UP LACROSSE ALBUQUERQUE, N. M.—(INS)—

Lacrosse, an American Indian version of hockey without ice, is returning to the southwest—not among the tribes, but at the University of New Mexico. George White, head of the physical education department at the university, who announced the addition of lacrosse to the school's program, pointed out that the New Castle Mexico institution was one of few colleges west of the Mississippi to practice the sport.

It's a Great State

By Gilbert Love

REPRINTED FROM THE PITTSBURGH PRESS

Golly, but this is a great state.

It is famous for its industries. Its farm population is second largest in the nation. It has two of the country's 10 largest cities, and more small cities and towns than any other state.
Yet it isn't crowded. Not by a long shot. More than half of its area is still in woodland and forest. It has 28 big state forest parks, 1,500,000 acres of public game land, 10,000 miles of fishing streams that are restocked every year.

It has 85,000 miles of good roads, touching 98.4 per cent of all farms in the state, and a super-highway that can't be matched anywhere. It has 12,000 miles of railroad, which is more than all the railroads of New England. It has 168 airports, and more registered aircraft than any other state.

Pennsylvania is the only state with an outlet to the Great Lakes, the Mississippi and the Atlantic. The Port of Erie handles more than six and a third million tons of cargo freight a year, and a million of these tons are in foreign commerce.

Lots of Ocean Freight

Philadelphia, with its twin city, Camden, N.J., across the river, handles more ocean freight than any port except New York. Pittsburgh's rivers carry more freight than the Panama Canal.

If you're looking for a job, it might help you to know that Pennsylvania provides more jobs in industry than all the states between the Mississippi River and the Sierra Mountains.

If you're planning to go into business, you'll be encouraged by the fact that more national industries have started here from small beginnings than anywhere on the continent.

Want to buy a farm? Pennsylvania has some of the best farm land in America, and raises every important commercial crop except cotton, citrus fruits and peanuts.

Need more education? Pennsylvania has more institutions of higher learning than any other state.

It Has Scenery, Too

Looking for scenery? It's hardly necessary to say that the views in the Pennsylvania mountain country are breath-taking.

Pennsylvania's industry is diversified. Nearly everyone knows that this state leads the nation in the production of such heavy materials as steel, pig iron, coal, stone, cement and coke, but it isn't generally known that we also produce the most hats, shirts, hosiery, silks, ice cream, liquors, cigars, chocolate, needles and pretzels.

The state is strategically located. Within a radius of 300 miles is 62 per cent of the population of the United States and 68 per cent of all the manufacturing industries.

It produces more power than any other state, or any nation except Germany and Great Britain.

Its population of 10 millions is second in the United States.
Its annual spendable income is nearly seven billion dollars.

A powerful and interesting state, a state which should inspire a great pride. Somebody should write a good song about it, comparable to those which have been written about looser territories.

If you want to know more about the advantages of Pennsylvania, write the State Department of Commerce for some of its publications. They supplied the facts in this column.

Some of the great English writers are known for the great number of words they included in some of their sentences. Edmund Spenser averages about 50 words to each of his prose sentences. Richard Hooker averages about 41. John Milton sometimes has more than 300 words in a sentence. Macaulay's sentences average only 22 words.

Report Shooting In Election In Area Of Naples

ROME, June 3.—(INS)—Shooting reportedly broke out today during the closing hour of Italy's first free general election in a quarter-century as Republicans and Monarchists clashed near Naples.

Dispatches from Naples said the use of firearms was reported in the provincial town of Saviano, where some four persons were wounded. Polling stations in Naples province closed at midday, with an estimated 75 to 80 per cent of the registered voters actually casting their ballots. Voting had been made compulsory for all members of the electorate. For the most part, calm and order prevailed.

King Humbert II exercised his franchise for the first time, when he appeared at the polling station in Rome at 11:30 a. m. Outcome of the election will determine whether he will continue on the throne of Italy.

Assure Return Of Many War Dead

INDIANAPOLIS, June 3.—(INS)—The return of approximately 250,000 bodies of World War II dead was assured today by the American Legion grave registration program. Manceo Talcott, chairman of the American Legion grave registration program, said the dead would be returned to the United States for burial with military honors.

To coordinate all Legion services in connection with the repatriation of bodies a special division headquarters of the military organization will be set up in Indianapolis.

The government will return only the bodies requested by the nearest of kin. Latest reports set the missing list at more than 19,000, army, navy, marine and coast guard personnel.

CIO Organizer Gets Two-Month Sentence

PHILADELPHIA, June 3.—(INS)—Francis White, 35, of 2223 West Thoga street, an organizer of the CIO United Electrical Workers union, was sentenced today to two months in county prison on assault and battery charges.

White was convicted by a jury last May 14 of striking Patrolman George Weiss during a disturbance near the General Electric plant in Southwest Philadelphia.

After sentencing White, Judge George G. Parry released him in $1000 bail pending an appeal to the State Superior Court.

Oculists are no good, either. We haven't found one who can prescribe lenses that will give us back the eyes we had at twenty.

State Enforces Slaughter House Sanitation Laws

Agriculture Department Cracking
Down On Slaughter Houses
Across State

HARRISBURG, June 3.—During the period of meat scarcity meat hygiene agents of the Bureau of Animal Industry, State Department of Agriculture, have been exercising extra precautions in their periodic examinations of slaughter houses, and for the first four months of this year the department closed 17 establishments because owners refused to observe state requirements as to sanitation.

Nearly 3,000 slaughter houses and abattoirs have been examined since January 1, according to records of the meat hygiene division of the bureau. In that period 86 were found to be defective in meeting standards of sanitation. All but 17 made changes and improvements within the limited period of time allowed by the state and were permitted to retain their licenses. Those who failed to clean up their premises had their state licenses revoked, bureau officials said. Five of the establishments were closed in the month of April when 388 were examined out of the total of 2,967 inspected between January 1 and May 1.

For the first four months of 1946 meat hygiene agents examined nearly 40,000 dressed carcasses and condemned 51 as unfit for human consumption. Out of more than 273,000 animals slaughtered under state inspection 173 were condemned. Nearly 12,000,000 pounds of meat and meat products were passed and most 14,000 pounds were rated unfit for human consumption. Most condemned meats and carcasses are used in the manufacture of fertilizers, the department explained.

Officers Advised On Procedure In Being Called Back

Capt. Jeff Coats Of District Recruiting Office Explains
Selection Method

Because of the many requests for information from reserve officers relative to their being called back to an active status in the Army of the United States, Capt. Jeff Coats, of the Beaver County Army Recruiting Office, gives the following regulations regarding the procedure involved.

Under present regulations in order to be eligible for recall to active service an officer must hold a reserve commission and for those holding Army of the United States and National Guard commissions, it will be necessary that they apply for and receive a commission in the Reserve Corps under the provisions of WD Circular 194 of 1945.

The officer so accepted must agree to serve for an indefinite period of time or until July, 1947. The officer must meet physical standards for general service and must accept a temporary Army of the United States assignment in the grade offered by the War Department, which in no case will be higher than the grade in which the officer served prior to being relieved from active duty. The officer must have an efficiency index of 40 or better; he must be professionally qualified to perform effectively a military occupation, specially without further training.

The officer is subject to overseas assignment and any downward grade readjustment procedure in the same manner as all other officers on active duty, except that he will not be reduced to the grade lower than the permanent grade he held December 7, 1941. The officer's permanent National Guard or Officers Reserve Corps rank and appointment will not be disturbed. Quotas have been allotted to the following services. If the officer is not in one of these services, return to active duty at the present time is not authorized.

As changes in the authorization stated below comes about they will be publicized as much as possible: adjutant general's department, chaplains corps, corps of engineers, judge advocate general's department, quartermaster corps, signal corps, transportation corps, counter-intelligence corps, medical corps, dental corps, medical administrative corps, veterinary corps, sanitary corps, medical department dieticians, corps of the military police, ordnance department, finance department, chemical warfare service, ASF for branch immaterial officers.

Captain Coats specifies that this is sufficient information for all reserve officers to obtain their status in regard to returning to active duty. If not, they should call their local recruiting station located in the Post Office building, or 925 Seventh avenue, Beaver Falls Pa., and additional information will be available.

Rates Supersonic Aircraft Project Great As A-Bomb

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—The national advisory council for aeronautics said today that its research in the field of supersonic aircraft is potentially as great as the atomic bomb project.

A spokesman for the council said in making this statement that "this field of aeronautics is barely scratched in that we stand now about where the Wright brothers stood 30 years ago." He declared that millions of dollars must be spent.

The official declined to reveal details of the council's extensive research. He stated that "secrecy is of utmost importance for the time being because the project is as great potentially as development of atom bombs."

He said that problems encountered in the undertaking are extremely difficult, especially procurement of special equipment required for experimentation.

The official explained that wind tunnels on tiny scales have been used thus far in research aimed at conquering speeds out-distancing sound. He added that "we are ready now to start operations on a scale but have not the resources."

Tidal waves have been found to measure from 80 to 100 feet in height.

QUALITIES TO CONSIDER IN NEW FURNITURE

Good furniture has certain desirable qualities. The homemaker should consider when buying new pieces.

Furniture wood should be hard to resist dents and scratches but not so hard that it will split during construction. Well-seasoned wood is less likely to swell, shrink, or warp. Joints should be strong and tight with blocks placed to strengthen corners. Drawers of good pieces have dovetailed corners and slide smoothly and doors fit snugly, but do not stick or sag.

A good finish adds to the appearance of furniture, makes it easier to clean, and prolongs the life of the piece. A good finish has a fine soft luster and is not rough or shiny. It will bring out the natural beauty of the wood and not imitate another kind.

Labels stating kinds of materials and type of construction used should be attached to every worthwhile piece of furniture.

Not only will the homemaker look for good construction and materials but she will pay particular attention to the size, design and color of the furniture. Large pieces are suitable for large rooms, but will overcrowd a small room. The piece selected should blend in style and coloring with the furnishings already in the room.

Before making a final decision, Miss McClain advises homemakers to re-examine all the visible parts

Marine Corps Has Memorial Service Sunday

Program Is Presented In Temple
Israel For 30 Marines Who Died In Service

Gunnery Sergeant Harry T. Burns detachment of the Marine Corps League paid its tribute of respect to the thirty Lawrence County Marines killed in World War Two, Sunday afternoon, June 2, when the annual memorial service was held. The memorial was held in Temple Israel, with Rabbi Iwan Gruen delivering the address. Like other memorial services of the Marines this was simple, reverent and respectful. It was the Marine method of keeping alive the memory of the thirty Lawrence County men who paid for freedom with their lives in the recent war.

The Marines, the Ladies Auxiliary, and the Red Cross detachment formed outside the temple at two-thirty and marched in. The colors were displayed on the altar and as the detachment marched in the Marine hymn was played by the organist.

In his address, Rabbi Gruen paid tribute to the men who had died, but urged that their sacrifice be not forgotten in the making of the peace. At the conclusion of his address the Marine detachment presented its rose memorial service with Fred Welker in charge as master of ceremonies.

The color bearer detachment included James Agan, Warren Morgan, William Kennedy and Fred Bernard. The rose bearers were D. O. Davies, John Othites, William Kane and George Jones. Candle snuffers were Alvin Kulkin and Fred Schlosberg. During the service special musical numbers were presented by Dorothy Gormley Smith and Sam Lewis. Elmer Ray Sweet concluded the memorial with taps. Commandant Dale Lawson was in charge of the day as general chairman.

In the evening the Marines and their friends gathered in the Castleton hotel where a number of reels of battle action pictures were shown. Peter McGinty was the chairman of the evening and introduced Commandant Dale Lawson who spoke briefly. Former Master Sergeant Fred Welker, Captain Edward Ballard and Louis B. Round who spoke.

Lt. Verna Hietsch Receives Discharge

Lieut. Verna Hietsch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Heitsch, 307 North Mercer street, was discharged from the Marine Corps Women's Reserve in May, after almost three years' service.

Miss Heitsch enlisted in June 1943, and after her boot training, she was stationed in Washington D. C., where she was advanced to sergeant. In August, 1945, she returned to her training school at Camp Lejeune, N. C. When she received her commission, she was sent back to Washington, D. C., where she was stationed until she was discharged. Miss Hietsch spent her terminal leave at Miami Beach, Florida.

Silver Deadlock May Hit Pictures For Periodicals

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—A congressional deadlock over silver prices threatened today to create a picture famine for newspaper and magazine readers.

Maneuvers by the "silver bloc" have delayed action to free treasury silver stocks for industrial uses to the point where it is reported that supplies of silver nitrate for photographic purposes have little chance of being replenished in time to avert a heavy blow to publishers.

Industry has been hard pressed to fill its silver needs since Congress allowed a war measure permitting purchases of treasury stocks to lapse at the end of 1945.

Efforts to revive the legislation have thus far proved fruitless as silver state senators have held out for an increase in price from the present level of 71.11 cents for troy ounce to $1.29.

Sen. McCarran (D) Nev., a leading "silver bloc" member, asserted he would agree to the release of treasury silver to industry only if it can be replaced immediately at the $1.29 price.

McCarran scoffed at reports of silver hoards outside the United States being held for a rise in American prices. He said appropriation hearings disclosed that "there just isn't any silver around and won't be until we encourage American prospectors and mine owners to find and produce it by making the price attractive."

Note which senators and representatives are playing the market and you can understand the speeches they make to affect prices.

CONVENTION AT ELLWOOD CITY

Ellwood District Sunday School
Convention Sessions At First
U. P. Church Sunday

A large and appreciative audience attended the annual Ellwood district Sunday school convention at the First U. P. church of Ellwood City, Sunday night, where the Youth Choral society presented a sacred concert. There were 46 young ladies and 12 young men in the chorus, and the director was Mrs. Frank H. Conway with Mrs. William Sweeney at the piano and Miss Irene Sweeney at the organ. The concert was dedicated to the retiring Ellwood district president, Mrs. Joseph R. Clark, under whose efficient leadership the choir was formed.

At the afternoon session there were opening devotions, reports of committees including a state convention report by Mrs. W. J. Nagel and a message by Rev. Charles Z. Bell. At the evening session the following officers were installed by the county president, Robert M. Strickler, Jr.:

President, Frank C. Wiley; treasurer, Miss Evelyn Cole; training superintendent, Mrs. Judd Turner; home department, Mrs. W. J. Nagel; young people, Rev. O. R. Stang; parent training, Rev. P. H. Daubenspeck; Christian education, Mrs. Joseph Young; administrative, G. C. Denniston; missions, Mrs. George Dunseith; temperance, Mrs. Homer A. Jordan; children's, Mrs. Linda Seymour; adult, Russell Stiller.

BROTHER IS DEAD

New York authorities yesterday requested city police to notify Clarence Hockenberry, South Side, that a brother, Frank, had died in New York. The message was delivered.

Where you find churchmen playing politics to get bigger jobs, they have forgotten the religion taught by the Son of Man.

Some Footnotes Of Journey Through
Cowman's Country

ROSWELL, N. M. — Footnotes from along the road:

This cowman's country still remains the land of the low-slung bay window—phase of American physiology which most folks over look.

Movies, artists and western magazines depict the cowboy as a tall, slim, lean, flanked, deep-chested gent with only a slight, saddle-born droop to his broad shoulders.

To a large extent, the lads who ride the big-time rodeo circuits, east and west, bear out the theory. A top-notch bronc-peeler, for instance, gets his excess poundage pretty well spanked and shaken off, day in and day out. Into your salty ropers and rugged bull-doggers, although the latter sometimes carry a little more ballast to pull the critters down.

But mostly, those are the comparatively young range-riders. As they age from cowboys into cowmen, forsaking the frantic bursts of speed out of the arena chutes, and the rougher range work, a certain amount of avoirdupois usually is added somewhere about the mid-section.

Stomach Bulge

Now, there's nothing objectionable about the stomach bulge. It's universal. But whereas in most parts of the country bay windows follow a sort of half-moon contour, out here they show a definite sag, becoming a sort of inverted question mark, just above the belt buckle.

The reason for that is occupational. Most men wear their pants belted up around their waists, the belt riding slightly above their hip bones—but not the cowboy.

He wears his belt down around his hips, for several reasons. First, the constant shifting of his body in the saddle would cause the heavy belt to chafe his hip bones if it were fastened just about them. Better, snugly around them instead, it doesn't shift.

Also, most cowpokes wear blue denim pants which, no matter what their makers say, inevitably show at least a slight tendency to shrink. Since the puncher bought them snug and short waisted to begin with (slack in his pants would bring plenty blisters!) that shrinkage pulls his beltline even farther down.

Thus, years of habit keep his belt low on his flanks, even when he's not riding the range. And as his mid-section begins to mushroom, instead of being held to a symmetrical arch by a belt precisely in the middle of the bulge as in most parts of the country, the ranchman's bay window sags slightly—and then blossoms out beautifully, almost hiding the belt-buckle down below!

Revisiting cities, scenes and once-familiar spots where you haven't been since before the war gradually teaches you caution and a sady-careful control over your conversation with old friends.

It comes too easy to ask: "And how is so-and-so?" and the war is yet so recent that it comes hard for them to reply: "Oh, hadn't you heard? He went down over Germany." Or else he fell at Guadalcanal or during the Belgian breakthrough.

After a while you quit asking question, and when you leave, you still don't know what's happened to the old friends you didn't see . . .

Over around Socorro, just west of the Guadalupe mountains, any talk about the atom bomb or rockets brings up the Civil War story of Capt. Paddy Graydon and his burro bombs that boomeranged.

Capt. Paddy was quite an ingenious kid who took care of his replacement problem, for instance, by becoming a one-man draft board in whatever community he happened to find himself short of soldiers.

But his burro bombs were something else again. One night his company of independent scouts was permitted to stage a surprise night attack on the Confederate forces besieging Fort Craig.

Paddy picked a pair of ancient, trail-weary burros, loaded their packs with dynamite, fastened on short fuses, and with a few scouts led them within a few yards of the Confederate camp.

There he aimed the burros at the enemy, lit the fuses, banged the perambulating blockbusters a few times across the south end and then took off for home.

But the burros were affectionate souls and, turning around, who spurred frantically out of the way. Fortunately, the horses were faster, and the burro bombs blew up about halfway between the two army camps.

However, there was no surprise attack that night!

Sen. Bankhead Reported Weaker

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—The naval hospital reported today that Sen. John H. Bankhead (D., Ala.), a patient for the past week, "lost ground" during the night.

Capt. R. E. Dutton, commanding officer at the hospital, issued a bulletin reporting that the senator's condition "is not as good as it has been."

Bankhead was rushed to the hospital May 24 after he collapsed at the capitol following a strenuous day and night session on OPA and labor legislation.

Rev. Jones Speaks On Palestine Topic

At the First Congregational church, Rev. Thomas J. Jones, the pastor, spoke to a large audience on Sunday evening. The theme of his address was "Palestine: The Greatest Moral Challenge To Christendom."

Rabbi Isaac Gruen, of Temple Israel, presided at the meeting.

Rev. A. E. Simon, president-elect of the ministerial association, gave the evening prayer.

Conventions were extended to Rev. Joshua H. Miller, of the fifth anniversary of his entrance into the Lutheran gospel ministry.

LARGE TURNOUT AS "Y" SWIMMING CAMPAIGN BEGINS

Over 100 young boys thronged to the Y. M. C. A. swimming pool today as the association's "Learn to Swim" campaign got under way.

Registration for the free instruction in the water art was so large that four classes had to be formed to handle the turnout. David Gattal, boys' director, said:

"The youngsters will receive ten free lessons from James Dart and his assistants in the pool, and it is hoped to produce quite a few able swimmers at the conclusion of the campaign."

New version: The sun never sets on little kids who call some American "Daddy."

Fireman Horton Suffers Injury To Shoulder In Forcing Entrance Into Place

When city firemen answered an alarm from Box 53, calling them to the Riley Feed store, at 910 Maryland street, Sunday evening at 8:45 p. m., they found that someone had set fire to the desk. Fire Chief James E. Thomas reported today.

Fireman H. D. Horton suffered an injury to his shoulder in forcing an entrance to extinguish the blaze, which was started in a desk.

Later, police arrested two boys from the South Jefferson street neighborhood, one aged eight, and the other aged 15, who are said to have been implicated in setting fire to other establishments during the past year.

"MAKE IT A MILLION!"

Since last September over three-quarters of a million men have joined the Regular Army as volunteers. Many of them are veterans of World War II, who know and like Army life. Others are younger men—alert and ambitious—who have recognized their responsibility to serve their country and to relieve from duty men who took up arms against our enemies.

Never before in American history has the Army had so much to offer in good pay, travel, education and adventure. And never before in peacetime has your country needed such a strong and modern Regular Army for world-wide protection of peace and security.

If you are qualified, mentally and physically, for Regular Army enlistment, you have everything to gain and nothing to lose by finding out all the advantages the Army has to offer you. Stop at your nearest U. S. Army Recruiting Station today!

Outsmarts Self In Attempt To Foil Burglars

DETROIT—(INS)—Oliver Ruby thought he had outsmarted would-be burglars, but today he considered that maybe he outsmarted himself. Ruby said he had been reading stories of thieves breaking open safes and even carrying them out of buildings, so he decided not to leave any money in the safe in his furniture store.

"Instead," he sadly told police, "I hid the money in envelopes and put them in various places in the office."

Police called Ruby when they found a glass broken in a rear door. Ruby found the hidden envelopes, which contained $1,557, were gone. The safe wasn't touched.

The net income for the year of 1945 of an automotive firm was $118,168.113. It averaged $168,173.914 yearly in the four years of 1942-45.

LIGHTNING HITS TWICE

TOOMSBORO, Ga.—(INS)—Opportunity is waiting for a lightning rod salesman at Toombsboro. The Toombsboro high school recently was demolished by lightning. Hardly had it been rebuilt before citizens found lightning does strike twice in the same place—a bolt of lightning knocked down sheetrock ceilings and parts of the walls in half of the new building.

Kelso Is Named Alumni Head

Pittsburgh Man To Lead Westminster Alumni During Coming Term

JUDGE BRAHAM RE-NAMED TRUSTEE

NEW WILMINGTON, June 3.—Daniel Kelso of Pittsburgh was elected president of the Westminster Alumni association at the annual business meeting held Saturday afternoon in conjunction with commencement week-end activities.

Mr. Kelso, a graduate of the college with the class of 1928, succeeds H. Russell Weller of Cleveland, who served for the past three years. Other officers are: John Lewis, Sharon, vice president; Elizabeth McBane, New Wilmington, treasurer; Margaret McBeth, Homestead, Pittsburgh, auditor; Mrs. Robert Dixon, New Castle, Mrs. George McConnell, Sharon, Kenneth Dyer, New Castle, Laura Turner, Pittsburgh, and Rev. W. H. McPeak, Greenville, alumni council.

Named to Board
Judge W. Walter Braham of New Castle and Kyle George, Youngstown, were re-elected alumni representatives to the board of trustees. Edward Bollard of New Castle, a veteran of the recent world conflict, responded on behalf of the servicemen at a brief but impressive memorial service in memory of the 43 Westminster men who gave their lives.

Bollard, in his address, asked that the college never forget the sacrifice made by the 43 and urged his listeners to determine that the present peace shall be a lasting one. The gratefulness of the college to the men who served was expressed by Dr. Stulman Foster of Pittsburgh.

An embossed copy of a resolution recently passed by the board of Christian education of the United Presbyterian church eulogizing retiring President Robert F. Galbreath for his services to the college and to the cause of Christian education, was read and presented to Dr. Galbreath by Dr. Samuel Shane of Pittsburgh.

President-Elect Speaks
Dr. H. Lloyd Cleland, president-elect of the college, was introduced by Bruce McCrory of Pittsburgh. Dr. Cleland asked the alumni for their continued support of the college.

The business session was followed by a band concert by the college band under the direction of Prof. Donald O. Cameron.

About 700 attended the dinners held at noon in the United Presbyterian, Presbyterian and Methodist churches.

Classes of 1896, 1901, 1906, 1911, 1916, 1921, 1926, 1931, 1936, 1941, held reunion dinners during the evening with the classes of 1896 and 1901 special guests of the college with dinner served at Hillside.

The fraternities on campus held open house during the evening and hundreds of visitors were reported. An all-college dance Saturday evening ended the day's activities.

Food Allowances Are Increased For Persons On Relief

HARRISBURG, June 3.—(INS)—A four per cent increase in food allowances made available by the department of public assistance was effective today for persons on relief.

Acting Secretary Robert P. Wray said the increase would affect more than 245,000 persons on general assistance, aid to dependent children and old age assistance rolls. Blind pensions, fixed by state law at $40 monthly, were not changed.

The department estimated the increase would boost expenditures approximately $100,000 a month.

In its annual report on living costs, the department survey admitted that while maximum allowances were adequate to meet minimum requirements for food and shelter, "some deficiency exists in the allowances for clothing, fuel, light and incidentals."

There was no indication in the report that any increase was contemplated to cover the deficiencies.

'Sabotage' Scare In A-Bomb Tests Now Cleared Up

BIKINI ATOLL, June 3.—(INS)—

A "sabotage" scare in connection with forthcoming Bikini atom bomb tests was cleared up today with the arrest of two navy enlisted men suspected of being pyromaniacs.

The suspects are now held in an open-air steel cage which serves as the Bikini brig.

Seabees and other naval personnel working on installations connected with the Bikini tests have been plagued recently by the outbreak of fires at scattered points but the incidents have not been disclosed for publication.

The two suspects were not identified by naval authorities, pending further investigation.

Naval officers said the fires allegedly started by the two men did not cause material damage to buildings or highly secret instruments, photographic towers or radiological devices installed for the tests.

For several days, authorities were worried about a "spy scare" until the alleged pyromaniacs were seized.

Famine Relief Program Of U. S. Will Be Probed

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—The Senate small business committee today launched a sweeping investigation into the government's famine relief program.

Sen. Murray (D-Mont., committee chairman, said the group will strive to develop cooperation among participating government departments "to make an effective program to aid starving nations and at the same time prevent injury to American small business."

Murray spiked published reports that he had accused the Agriculture Department and other federal agencies of "gross incompetence" in arranging relief shipments.

Will Study Shortages
The senator expressed belief that his committee would study both meat shortages at home and grain deliveries abroad.

Reports were current at the time that some administration officials were contemplating a return to meat rationing next winter in view of increasing meat scarcity under the government's grain conservation drive. Murray said:

"I suppose the whole thing will have to be gone into, and whatever the situation, the testimony should bring it out."

Murray added that the hearings undoubtedly would continue for some time, but made no estimate how long they might last.

Converted Ship Carries Animals To A-Bomb Site

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—

The Navy announced today that animals to be used in the atom bomb test have been shipped to Bikini atoll on the USS Burleston, naval attack transport converted to animal carrier and laboratory ship.

Two hundred goats, 200 pigs and approximately 4,000 rats were placed aboard the vessel which left San Francisco May 10.

The animals will be distributed aboard 22 target ships just prior to the dropping of the first atomic bomb scheduled for about July 1.

Vice-Admiral W. H. P. Blandy, commander of the joint Army-Navy atomic bomb projects, defended the use of the animals by declaring:

"The important thing to bear in mind is that this aspect of the test will save men's lives in the next war—should there be one. The primary concern is to protect the lives of Americans in this and future generations. Our doctors feel that they cannot draw complete deductions on what may happen to men by instruments alone; therefore, they desire the use of animals."

The Navy stressed that humane treatment will be insured at all times.

Lewis To Share Negotiations In Hard Coal Strike

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—

Negotiations for settlement of the strike of 75,000 hard coal miners were viewed with greater optimism today as UMW President John L. Lewis prepared to take part in the conversations for the first time.

Lewis has been in Washington winding up the settlement of the United Mine Workers bituminous strike.

Observers maintained that the union delegation would proceed with greater authority with Lewis present.

Neither the union nor the operators would indicate the progress of the negotiations which began May 10. No session was held yesterday.

Lewis arrived in New York last night but declined to talk.

Howard B. Reese, aged 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Reese, 914 Temple avenue, and a student at the Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf, Edgewood, Pittsburgh, is undergoing treatment at the Columbia hospital, Wilkensburg, for injuries received a few days ago, while on a hike.

He and his Boy Scout troop were on a hike in a woods near Edgewood, when he fell and dislocated his left hip. He was removed to the hospital by the scoutmaster, where he will be confined until June 11 or 12, according to word received by his parents.

HUNT FOR PROMOTER

PITTSBURGH, June 3.—(INS)—Police were on the lookout today for a professional promoter who arranged a dance for the veterans of the Pacific and then shipped up on such incidental matters as renting a hall and hiring a dance band.

As a result six veterans were held under $1,000 pending the arrest of the "promoter." The Vets were arrested on a charge of soliciting funds under false pretenses.

ANEMIA

The red color of the blood is due to the presence of the red corpuscles.

These red corpuscles are little cells or discs or capsules. They are shaped like a penny or a medicine tablet.

They contain a substance called hemoglobin. This is an iron compound.

Anemia means a shortage of red blood. Sometimes there is a shortage of red cells. Sometimes there are plenty of cells but they are short of hemoglobin.

A person may be pale and still not be anemic. Pale lips and gums may not mean anemia.

A bad color of the skin may be caused by other things than anemia.

The iron of the blood is replenished by the iron in the food.

Sometimes a person may get plenty of iron in the food and still be anemic.

The only way to find out for sure is to have a blood test.

A good varied diet provides plenty of iron.

Three Are Dead In Traffic Accidents

(By International News Service)

Three persons were killed and at least 13 others injured in traffic accidents on western Pennsylvania highways over the Memorial Day weekend, a survey showed today.

The dead were listed as Donald J. Dadanzo, 29, of Wyano, Westmoreland county; J. Harry Hart, 17, of Cumberland, Md., and Garnet Trench of Clinton, Pa.

Dadanzo was killed instantly when his car skidded over an embankment near Hermine, police reported.

Hart died in Westmoreland hospital from injuries sustained when his car skidded into another automobile on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and Trench died from injuries received when his car struck an oil truck near his home.

Plan Village For War Orphans

ZURICH—(INS)—The first stone in the construction of what will be one of the most remarkable villages in the world will be laid shortly—a village devoted solely to orphans, victims of the war.

The "Pestalozzi" village for orphan children will be built on the plateau of Trogen in the canton of Appenzel, where the orphans can get plenty of fresh air and sunshine.

In this village, the idea of which was inspired by the work of the famous Swiss Christian educator, Heinrich Pestalozzi, those children who suffered most from the cruelties of war will find an asylum of health.

New Charges By Soviet Magazine

MOSCOW, June 3.—(INS)—The Soviet magazine Propaganda today carried an article charging the United States with using atomic energy to further "military aims and a reactionary foreign policy."

The publication said the U. S. was blocking peaceful exploitation of atomic energy.

Two other Russian organs repeated assertions that Washington and London had joined their foreign policies to oppose the Moscow government.

The official newspaper Izvestia discounted Secretary of State James Byrnes' denial of an Anglo-American bloc, and the magazine New Times declared the two western powers sought to "impose their will upon other countries, particularly upon the Soviet Union."

New Times said the "tendency of Britain and the United States to lean together behind the backs of other wartime allies threatened to undermine every basis for international cooperation."

Lasting Truce In China Hinges On Marshall Plan

NANKING, June 3. — (INS) — Hope of a lasting truce between Chinese disputants in Manchuria hinged today on acceptance of a new peace plan reportedly set forth by Gen. George C. Marshall.

The American special envoy was reportedly attempting to persuade Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek to noid up the government's offensive in Manchuria particularly in the Harbin area.

Chinese dispatches said the government troops were in the outskirts of Harbin, Manchuria's second largest city, and were awaiting orders which may determine the success or failure of Marshall's efforts.

Chinese sources which reportedly saw details of Marshall's new plan said it was "workable" but said acceptance by both factions was questionable.

It was said that General Marshall has been told by informed persons that if a peaceful solution of the Manchurian problem is not found soon a civil war will spread throughout China on an unprecedented scale.

Harbin appeared to be the pivotal city in current negotiations and Chinese Communists leaders have asserted their garrison will defend the metropolis "to the end" if Nationalists attempt to storm it.

Probe Story Of Girl's Attacker

Investigation Is Under Way In Toledo Death Of Eleven-Year-Old Girl

TOLEDO, O., June 3. — (INS) — Police today held Kenneth Salter, 27, of Cleveland, O., while they investigated his signed statement that he administered a fatal dose of sedative to Barbara Dunn, 11-year-old Toledo school girl.

Salter told authorities that he administered the sedative to permit him to criminally assault the young girl while she was unconscious.

The Dunn girl was found dead in a rooming house, called to the home by Salter, arrived. Salter, a friend of the family, told police he was staying overnight.

Coroner Frank C. Kraft reported that an autopsy indicated the girl had been criminally assaulted. Dr. Thomas Ramsey, city pathologist, said his examination to find the cause of the girl's death would be completed today.

Salter was being held on suspicion of felonious assault. He was paroled last September from Mansfield, O., reformatory after serving four years for assault on a 13-year-old Cleveland girl.

Police said Salter admitted an attack on the Dunn girl.

Pt. Arthur Lee Cammell, 21-year-old negro from Ponville, Miss., was held for further examination in the death of Elizabeth Keller, his 19-year-old companion.

Cammell said his pistol went off accidentally while they were in his room Sunday morning.

GRILL POSSIBLE
SUSPECT IN PLOT
TO KILL MACARTHUR

TOKYO, June 3. — (INS) — A possible suspect in the plot to assassinate General MacArthur was being questioned by supreme headquarters counter-intelligence men today.

The suspect was identified as Terunori Arai, 30.

Col. H. I. T. Cresswell, head of the counter intelligence corps, said intelligence officers have not yet been able to link the suspect to either the May Day or May 29th assassination plots.

Arai, being questioned at Mae-bashi, northwest of Tokyo, was arrested by Japanese police after he was overheard on a train assertedly saying:

"MacArthur must be eliminated."

Intelligence officers as well as Japanese police still are seeking Hideo Takayama, suspected leader of the first plot to assassinate General MacArthur during Tokyo's huge Communist-inspired May Day celebration.

Those most certain to succeed are the big gun who impresses people and the little guy who feels impelled to try harder.

Brooklyn Dodgers Increase Lead In National League

Faltering Cards Defeated Twice, 'Bums' Win Pair

Brooklyn Now Has Three And Half Game Lead, Pirates' Phils Split Two

NEWHOUSE WINS HIS NINTH GAME

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—The second day of June, 1946, will go down in the records as a very black day in the history of the St. Louis Cardinals.

The second-place Cards not only lost two games in the National League pennant race, putting them 3½ games behind Brooklyn, but also had the fact brought home to them that they could still use the services of their former famous brother-batter, Mort and Walker Cooper.

Mort Cooper, who has been nursing an injured elbow for almost a year, got back into the groove by pitching the Boston Braves to a 6 to 3 win over the Cubs, who won the nightcap 8 to 2.

But it was Brother Walker, the catcher bought by the N. Y. Giants from St. Louis for $175,000, who made the Cards feel where it hurts the most. Walker's grand slam home run in the second game of yesterday's twin bill kept the Giants in the ball game until Bobby Blanton's homer gave the Giants a 7 to 6 decision in the 11th.

In the opener, big Bill Voiselle held the Cards to five hits and handed them their first shutout of the season, 1 to 0, at the expense of Howie Pollock.

Dodgers Grab Pair
Brooklyn's twin triumph over Cincinnati, by 2 to 1 in 11 innings and 1 to 0 in the regulation nine, was due to timely hitting by Ed Stevens in the opener, and gift-edged pitching by Art (Little Fish) Herring and Hugh Casey in the nightcap.

Pittsburgh split a double-header with the Phillies. In the opener, Rip Sewell, pitching his first game since May 28, held the Quakers to a slight stroke, held the Quakers to four hits and won 5 to 1. In the nightcap, the Phils belted five Pittsburgh pitchers for 14 hits and trounced the Bucs 10 to 3.

Hal Newhouse fanned 13 batters, and became the season's first nine-game winner by pitching Detroit to a 19 to 2 triumph over Washington in the only game played in the American League. Dick Wakefield of the Tigers started at bat with four hits.

The underbody of your car is where rust is most active. Seldom do you see the ironwork rusting on the metal parts that are so necessary to protect unless you "get out and get under." You can prevent further action of rust on those parts by having Hite Bros. give the underbody of your car an application of 3-M Underbody Protective Coating. CHICAGO, June 3.—(INS)—Norman Thomas today still headed the Socialist party after the organization's 25th annual national convention.

Thomas was elected to head the national committee, to which 11 other committee members were named last night.

The election of Thomas brought to a conclusion the 1946 meeting, after delegates voted 71 to 43 in favor of a resolution calling for a coalition of popular forces similar to that which created the cooperative commonwealth federation in Canada.

Assault Wins Belmont Race

BECOMES SEVENTH TRIPLE CROWN WINNER IN RACING HISTORY SATURDAY

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—Trainer Max Baer said today that the future turf plans of Assault, seventh triple crown winner, will not be decided until late this week.

Hirsch wouldn't say that the son of Bold Venture, who scored an easy victory in the Belmont Stakes Saturday, would go after the Dwyer handicap and other rich stakes. But he did say that the King Ranch colt came out of the race in perfect shape.

Assault now has earned $299,020 for the year, only $9,255 less than Gallant Fox, who won $308,275 in 1930, the highest single-year total on record. His total earnings of $316,270 in two seasons place him 12th on the list of the world's leading money winners.

Corum Contends Beau Jack Great In Greco Battle

Beau Jack Pleases Crowd In Madison Square Garden As He Beats Johnny Greco

By BILL CORUM
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, June 3.—A little of the boomer is gone but a lot of the boy is left.

"Money Bags" Beau Jack returned from his spring vacation and showed up last Friday night at his office in the bank, sometimes referred to as the ring in Madison Square Garden, in time to clip a few coupons off a house of 11,407 depositors, who left $66,922 in the receiving teller's cage.

You've heard of the receiving teller, no doubt. The last name is Jacobs.

Greco Gets Clipped
In addition to the coupon, "Money Bags" also clipped a fellow named Johnny Greco right smartly through ten rounds of rough and ripping fighting. It had been reported in advance that the clients missed the announcements made on previous evenings in the Garden of this Greco-Beau Jack return.

But it's a funny world, chum, as you may have noticed. So they boomed the announcements and cheered the fight. They almost had to do that, since it was a good fight all the way this time, and as plainly earnest as any boxing contest ever fought.

Fight Fans Funny
How anybody could with justice boo any fight Beau Jack has ever made in the Garden ring is hard to figure. Save that all of us know it is a provable fact that there is a certain type of two-dollar better, who, when he loses, would hiss his old grandmother for trying to cook him a nice dinner.

Another nice feature of Friday night's scrap was that the wonderfully "wise money" which generally is so dumb that those who talk it should be wearing dunce caps instead of hats, was as wrong as customary.

Jack Great Fighter
The "wise money" switched Jack from the legitimate favorite he should have been and was all week to a 11-to-10 underdog at post time. Perhaps your correspondent is too trusting. But he has heard Beau Jack in more than 20 Garden fights, talked with the best, watched him as least as carefully as most, and doesn't believe that you could put a rope around his neck and drag him into a dishonest fight.

All Beau knows is rip and tear. All he does is rip and tear so long as he can squeeze a gasping breath out of his brown body. And all he did against Greco, game and strong, but not too bright, was rip and tear to win most all the way, and going away.

The extension service of the University of Illinois reports that shagbark hickory and white oak are among the best fuel woods. Other good fuel woods are black walnut, black locust, orange, ash, maple, sycamore and honey locust.

Seeking To End Canadian Strike Of Lake Seamen

PORT COLBORNE, Ont., June 3.—(INS)—Negotiators for the striking Canadian Seamen's Union and steamship lines officials sought today to end the crippling walkout of Great Lakes sailors.

The dispute over an eight-hour day has resulted in widespread disorders and bloodshed and has seriously disrupted shipping in Canadian waters.

The strikers are entrenched in a tent village at Welland canal and refuse to permit Canadian ships manned by non-union crews to pass.

Only thirteen vessels have passed through the locks over the weekend. The canal connects Lakes Erie and Ontario.

Canadian mounted police joined provincial officers in setting up defenses against union strikers' raiding tactics on the stalled vessels.

At least five vessels, tankers and freighters, were tied up early today. The whereabouts of the 14 non-union crewmen of the freighter Lethbridge remained a mystery. The crew disappeared Saturday morning after a lifeboat force of 25 men mysteriously boarded the ship.

Manhattan Tube Strikers Extend Their Activities

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—Railroad workers on strike against the Hudson and Manhattan tubes extended their activities today against ferries carrying commuters between New Jersey and New York.

Frank C. Mooney, New Jersey legislative agent of the trainmen, in announcing the ferry slips would be picketed, said "stopping the ferries would be of even greater importance than trying to tie up the Pennsylvania."

He referred to the Pennsylvania railroad which is providing augmented service between New Jersey points and Jersey City so commuters may board ferries for New York.

Striking trainmen and engineers have been picketing Pennsylvania stations although the extra service has the approval of their fellow unionists on the Pennsylvania.

Labor Leaders To Blast Emergency Labor Bill Today

WASHINGTON, June 3.—(INS)—President Truman's emergency labor bill was to be blasted today by four top labor leaders called before Congress by 16 members of the house.

Rep. Delaney (D. Wis.), who heads the group of congressmen who planned the attack invited all members of congress to attend the informal hearing of the house interstate commerce committee.

Called to testify against the legislation were:

AFL President William Green, CIO President Philip Murray, Secretary-Treasurer A. E. Lyon of the Railway Labor Executives Association, and Harvey Brown, president of the Independent International Association of Machinists.

Reduction In Air Fares Overseas Now Indicated

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—Substantial reductions in air fares to Europe are expected to develop from the North Atlantic conference of the International Air Transport Association which resumes sessions today.

Air line men preparing for the conference discussed a rate of $323 for the New York-London run and they indicated they may press for an even lower rate.

The present rate is $375.

State Farmers Aid Famine Sufferers

Lawrence County One Of Thirteen Counties Which Contributed To Recent Effort

Lawrence county was one of 13 counties in Pennsylvania which contributed to the 42,650 bushel allotment given in the recent Famine Relief Program. The total from Lawrence county was 2,950 bushels.

Butler county farmers gave 1,950 bushels, Mercer county, 1,083 bushels, Crawford county, 2,934 bushels, while most of the rest came from western counties, according to word received by Dorris L. Fulman, chairman of the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation Association.

Twelve shiploads were scheduled to move from Philadelphia this week, but due to transportation difficulties and inclement weather are being delayed. The ships being loaded at Philadelphia will carry 300,000 bushels. In Indiana county, money donations were raised for the purchase of three carloads of wheat.

Tifereth Israel Feast Of Weeks

Feast of Weeks (or Shavuot) will be observed for two days at Tifereth Israel synagogue, starting Tuesday evening, June 4, at 8:30 o'clock.

Tuesday evening's services will be under the auspices of the Tifereth Men's club. Rabbi Hyman Krash will officiate.

Wednesday morning services will be at 8 o'clock and Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock. On Thursday morning at 8 o'clock memorial services will be held.

The Feast of Weeks has both an agricultural and historical aspect in its holiday observance. This was the early harvest season, and the bread from the first wheat was brought as an offering of gratitude, and as a token of man's dependence upon the goodness of God.

Shavuot teaches first of all that religion is a necessity of life, is the actuating motive and sanction of personal, social and national character. Secondly it champions the cause of religious freedom as the most highly prized privilege and possession of the human race.

A social hour will be held in the social rooms of the synagogue after services.

Copper Shortage Latest Threat

CLEVELAND, June 3.—(INS)—The magazine Steel, national metalworking weekly, said today that "the biggest and blackest cloud now in the industrial horizon is the copper shortage."

The publication said that the supplies of copper for June will be the lowest in many years and it predicted that before the month is out there will be complete shutdowns in many assembly lines, particularly in the electrical manufacturing field.

Wyoming was the nation's third largest producer of natural sodium salt (sodium sulfate), being exceeded in 1944 only by California and Texas.

Atomic Missile Main Topic With Eighth Fleet Men

While World Awaits A-Bomb Results Admirals Carry On With Present Weapons

ATOMIC USES MAY ALTER NAVAL PLANS

NEW YORK, June 3.—(INS)—The self-guided atom missile hung like an enormous question mark over the Eighth Fleet maneuvers which ended at New York this week. The eyes of 25,000 sailors on the 29 newest-type ships were on their ship's newspapers, which carried brief bulletins from civilian news sources about the titanic worldwide atomic race. The official position of the admirals boiled down to this: "All we know is what we read in the ship's newspaper. A bomb in the bay is worth two en route to Bikini."

Over the fleet hung a whole series of spectral threats such as the buzzbat, bumblebee, gorgon, gargoyle, and other unannounced and unnamed weapons.

The planes on deck were powered by traditional gasoline units instead of jet propulsion. There was talk on the radio newsbroadcasts of wholly-automatic, self-loading, large-calibre anti-aircraft guns.

Pilotless drones used successfully as targets during the maneuvers, pointed the way toward the day when carrier flying machines may go off the deck without human hands at the controls.

One-Seat Divebombers
The carriers' dive bombers still went up with an enlisted gunner in the rear cockpit, although it was known that new dive bombers are coming off the assembly line with only one cockpit—for the pilot. The reason is obvious, even to a layman. The free-swinging machine guns are too inaccurate and pack too little wallop to compete with the new weapons.

Whether or not the Bikini tests show that the present navy outfit-of-date, Admiral Marc A. Mitscher "carried on" with the practical attitude that no more mobile fighting force than his has yet been built, and that, anyhow, atom bombs can be launched from carriers.

But even the carriers seemed likely to come in for a little re-designing in anticipation of the new jet planes and other weapons. A speed of 675 mph. is claimed for a British jet-propelled flying wing.

Some navy men are even talking of eliminating the "island" amidships, and putting all the bridges below the flight deck.

Certain it is that the ships are cramped for space in some divisions, notably in their bridges.

For instance, there is no room at present for the "ionosphere", it and when self-guided missiles travel so high the gunnery department has to worry about ultra-ultra violet rays and trajectory problems of meteors.

Speaks of Atomic Energy
Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, chief of naval operations, has spoke vaguely of using atomic energy in the more-or-less remote future to supply power. He thought it likely that it would appear first on the largest capital ships, with less likelihood that it could be used to propel planes.

Atomic scientists have estimated that the protective features necessary to shield a power unit capable of propelling an automobile would weigh from 44 to 55 tons.

The University of Chicago, in conjunction with the army, is creating an atomic pile in Tennessee which will produce energy at a cost which at present relatively equals coal at $15 a ton.

Now comes the Soviet claim that huge reflectors are turning the sun's rays into steam on an entirely new principle.

The French and Russians are reported producing energy using heavy water with a uranium pile. The British and Russians are reported turning to cosmic rays as a quick substitute for atomic fission. Russian, Swedish and Danish scientists lead.

are trying to get atomic energy from various politicians and foreign news sources report the United States has polio bacteriological weapons and atomic "gases" more deadly than the A-bomb.

And each new weapon creates the necessity of finding counter-measures against it—just in case the secret falls into the hands of a potential enemy. Such are in a drawer marked "top secret".

Flag Day Group Raps Communism

American Flag Day Association Urges Nation To Throttle Communism In U. S.

Urging nation-wide observance of Flag Day June 14, the American Flag Day Association, through its president, William T. Kerr of Lansdowne, Pa., today urged all Americans to throttle the threat of communism from abroad.

Mr. Kerr, founder of the association in Pittsburgh in 1888, and national president since 1938, stated that we must crush the threat of communism from abroad—that is aided by traitorous Americans who have secured their citizenship by mental reservations.

Pennsylvania made Flag Day a legal holiday in 1937, and the association, promoter of this patriotic celebration for 50 years, is still hopeful that congress will soon make a Flag Day proclamation, as do most governors and community officials.

In a pastry contest a "pioneer pie," containing meat of duck, guinea hen and pheasant won first prize. The mince, lemon meringue, rhubarb, apple, peach and pumpkin addicts, of course, claim they were ganged up on.
